The Great Fairs.

The city dailies report the two Fairs a great success. The display at each is simply grand—and the attendance is immense. It is estimated that fully 13,000 people attended each Fair on Tuesday, while on Wednesday some 25,000 people passed through the gates at the State Fair and some 18,000 at Minneapolis. Hon. J. G. Blaine was enthusiastically received at Minneapolis and Pres. Hayes had a perfect ovation at St. Paul.

Klimpton, of South Carolina, Released.
Boston Telegram, 30th.

Gov. Rice to-day decided, on the recommendation of the attorney general, to refuse the request of Gov. Hampton, of South Carolina, for the delivery to officers from that State of H. H. Klimpton, the ex-finance agent whose case is fresh in the public mind. The governor closes his letter to Gov. Hampton as follows: "In the present case, in my judgment, the object in procuring the indictment against Patterson, Parker and Klimpton, does not appear to be for the purpose of trying Klimpton for the crime charged against him, but for a different purpose. I feel it to be my duty, in the exercise of a sound discretion, to adhere to the practice of my predecessors, and I therefore respectfully decline to accede to your request." The governor sent a telegram to Springfield this afternoon ordering Klimpton's release from jail.

Young America Items.

Last Saturday was a day of cleaning, sweeping, raking, burning &c. streets, alleys, yards, gardens and every nook and corner was cleaned up, and the next morning our village looked like a clean park. In the afternoon a party of men and boys went to the picnic grounds to put things in shape for the next day.

The celebration of the 18th anniversary of the Pioneer Maennerchor took place last Sunday, in a manner which will long be remembered by all parties present. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the people, formed in line, and headed by the band, proceeded out to the picnic grounds, on never failing Capt. Frick directing the line of march. On arriving at the grounds, the ladies were taken possession of by the families and their friends, and various refreshments in the shape of beer, wine, lemonade, pop, sandwiches &c. were served and the gentlemen capped the climax by starting a food fight. At 3 o'clock Mr. Fritz Schuetz delivered the oration. One could not help to be happy, and for once to forget the troubles of this world, to see so many bright faces really enjoying the day in full measure. In the evening a grand retreat was made to the village after which the Young Americans entertained their many friends which had gathered from Waconia, Benton, Watertown, Carver, Norwood and other places, not one person being present from Chaska. In the evening theatre, and a grand ball which lasted till "we went home till morning."

REJECTED WHEAT.

We learn that a bushel of rejected wheat, weighing from 50 to 52 pounds to the bushel, ground by Chas. Haverland, at the old Paul mill near town, produced 25 pounds of flour after having been tolled, which with the toll, would require about 6 1/2 bushels of wheat for a barrel of flour; and we learn that at some other mills it is claimed that seven bushels are consumed in making a barrel. The relative prices are about 85 cents per bushel for No. 1 and 45 for rejected, which leaves the millers over $1.00 in favor of the rejected wheat in making a barrel of flour. This is entirely too much, as the extra quantity of bran in the rejected wheat ought to pay for the extra time in grinding the poorer quality.—LESUEUR SENTINEL.

Schurz, the Unceasing worker.
Philadelphia Evening Chronicle, (Dem.) Secretary Schurz is the business man of the administration. He is an unceasing worker, and sticks to his post like grim death to a dead darkey. His health having demanded a little cessation from labor, he suspended work for a few days only, and yesterday returned to Washington resume his official duties. The pity is that the government has not a larger number of such indefatigable workers.

R. T. W. DUKE'S WORD.

Surrendered During the War, It is Recovered After Many Years.
Charlottesville (Va.) Chronicle, Aug. 23. When Hon. R. T. W. Duke entered the confederate service in 1861 as a captain of Company A. Nineteenth Virginia regiment he carried with him an old sword which according to the family tradition, was the sword of Dr. Thomas Walker—the colonel's great grandfather—who was commissary-general of the Virginia troops under Washington, in Braddock's army. At the Battle of Sailor's Creek, April 6, 1865, Colonel Duke, then commanding a regiment in Custis Lee's division, was with the entire command, captured by the federal troops. The colonel surrendered to a Lieut. Croner, in a New York regiment, and requested his captor to preserve his sword, acquainting him with its value as a family relic. Captor and captured then exchanged addresses and parted, the colonel to remain some months in Johnson's Island prison.

Since the war several efforts have been made to find out the colonel's captor, but it was only a few months ago that his present address was obtained, and a letter received from him contained the information that the sword was still in his possession. After some negotiations the sword was forwarded, and is now in the colonel's possession. It is a quaint and singular looking old weapon, triangular-shaped, having three cutting edges, a solid silver hilt and guard, is of the style known as a dress-sword of the time of Charles and Queen Anne, and has doubtless danced at the side of some gay cavalier in the days when "Church, King and State" was the cry. It followed its owner to the old dominion, and paced nineties with his descendant at court-balls at Williamsburg, ran away with him at Braddock's defeat, saw the revolution of 1776, and now after being drawn at a four-years' contest for the "Lost Cause," and surrendered with a heavy heart, has again returned to whom it belongs, where, we trust it will remain unheated for years to come.

Since the war several efforts have been made to find out the colonel's captor, but it was only a few months ago that his present address was obtained, and a letter received from him contained the information that the sword was still in his possession. After some negotiations the sword was forwarded, and is now in the colonel's possession. It is a quaint and singular looking old weapon, triangular-shaped, having three cutting edges, a solid silver hilt and guard, is of the style known as a dress-sword of the time of Charles and Queen Anne, and has doubtless danced at the side of some gay cavalier in the days when "Church, King and State" was the cry. It followed its owner to the old dominion, and paced minuet with his descendant at court-balls at Williamsburg, ran away with him at Braddock's defeat, saw the revolution of 1776, and now after being drawn at a four-years' contest for the "Lost Cause," and surrendered with a heavy heart, has again returned to whom it belongs, where, we trust it will remain unsheathed for years to come.

With reference to the claims of Moers and others for expenses incurred in the burial of the body of Jacob Bleicher, found dead in the town of Hollywood in this county, which said claims were referred to me at the last session of the board of county commissioners, I have to say that in my opinion the county is not liable.

Sec. 1 of chap. 238 of the special laws of 1878 provides that "each town in the county of Carver in this State shall take care of and bear the expenses of its own poor or paupers in the same way or manner as far as is applicable as is now provided for counties to take care of its poor or paupers."

visors shall be superintendents of the poor in their respective townships, and take charge of the papers to the exclusion of said county commissioners of said Carver County.

The general laws relating to the death of paupers (see Sec. 17, chapter 15, statutes of Minnesota, revision of 1866) provide that the county shall bear the expense of such burial in case it is not borne by the relations of the deceased. It therefore follows that Carver Co. is not liable to pay the claims in question and the county commissioners have no right to allow them.

Our school meeting on Saturday evening was not very harmonious. We are to have nine months school and a male teacher, but we fear the school will not amount to much as long as there is such a division among the different nationalities.

People returning from the fair's report themselves as satisfied and the opinions as to which one was the best are somewhat divided.

Mr. Sleam started for Chicago and the eastern cities on Monday. He says he will return with the largest stock of general merchandise ever brought to Norwood.

His eldest daughter accompanied him, we wish them a pleasant journey and a safe return.

We learn from the Registers correspondent that Mr. Booth's matrimonial prospects are brightening. We hope it is so but fear "some women" may be mistaken.

The editors of the "Free Press" know very well that they evaded the only point that amounted to anything in our criticisms on their language concerning the President. They now call him President Hayes and are willing to welcome him but object to the manner in which it was done. This is all "blush" he was the guest of the state of Minnesota, and we think it right and proper and know of no better way than by poster &c. to let the people know where and when they can welcome him. Probably the managers had "filthy lucre" in view and knew it would draw a crowd, but such things are of daily occurrence, and are not often criticised. For instance we see this poster scattered broad cast through our valley.

Fairly to-day (9th) not so many cattle, auctioneers &c. as usual, but nevertheless quite a "fair day" for a cloudy one.

We heard quite a number speaking about laying out a race course, and, having seen on fair days. Not a bad scheme, either.

Mr. Frank A. Barth and F. Dressler will soon embark in the mercantile business at this place. We bespeak much success for this new enterprise.

Dr. Fleming and Miss Annie Strub of Waverly, also Drs. Ames and family of Delano and two other medical gent's were in town Monday.

As soon as Barth and Dressler take possession of the P. O. building the post office will be removed to the Drug store and C. G. Helgen Esq., will officiate until he can receive his appointment from Washington.

Mr. Louis Krause of this place lost $1,000 in notes at the "dog circus" in St. Paul last week and what money he had with him.

Others complain of extortionate cab fare, &c. &c. &c., serves them right, why not have stopped off at Minneapolis and be accommodated as only the fair and virtuous can be.

There, we give it up this week. Tried our best but it's a failure!

The weather is hot.
Watermelons are plenty.

C. F. Anderson threshed about 1000 bushels on his own farm last week.

At the annual school meeting held in Dist. No. 3, last Saturday, it was voted that no spelling schools should be allowed during the evenings next winter. A good resolution.

Seeing, in the last issue of the Free Press, the loss of our Watertown friend's baby, I thought we would say: don't be discouraged boys as long as (the M—o'k'y) remains with you.

Quite a number of our friends around here visited the State Fair and report having a good time.

C. F. Anderson & Co. are now threshing in P. Nord's neighborhood and Stomberg & Co. for L. Skag. Wheat yields very much more than first expected. Average about 16 bushels to the acre.

CHASKA, CARVER CO., MINNESOTA.

A French military critic holds that the English are a more military nation than the French, because he does not think so many Frenchmen would, in proportion to population, serve voluntarily in the army.

Grinding industriously at a hand-organ in New York is an aged man named Deroux, who took an active part in winning the independence of Belgium nearly fifty years ago. He afterward amassed a large fortune, which he lost in various speculations.

A writer mentions the fact that "it is the general custom not to use napkins at luncheon in England." If John Bull thinks he is ahead of Uncle Sam in such etiquette, he is sadly mistaken. Tramps in this country use neither napkins nor forks at either breakfast, dinner or luncheon. But we don't deem it worth bragging about.

John Jackson, of Illinois, a wealthy man, is also the very meanest man on record, to date. He refused to send aid to his own sister who was stricken with yellow fever in New Orleans. He was next notified of her death, and he refused to pay the funeral expenses. The girl was buried in a pauper's grave. Hell is altogether too comfortable a place for John Jackson. But when the devil gets him we hope he will hold him over the coals and let him frizzle slowly.

Judge Jere, Bichel, was asked in California a few days ago whether he agreed with Gen. Butler's views as to the power of a State to make legal provisions against the evils apprehended from Chinese immigration. He replied in a letter to the Chronicle that the prevalent notions of the effect of a Federal treaty are erroneous. A domestic regulation or Federal statute, if consistent with the Constitution, is not void because it conflicts with a treaty.

A memorial window recently placed in a Tyneside, England, church has been the cause of a little amusement to the congregation. Owing to a technical difficulty connected with the interior of the building, the inscription is made to read right across the window, somewhat as follows: "And seeing the multitudes, He went up to a mountain, in memory of—", who died August 20, 1874, and when He was set his disciples came unto him."

It is a curious fact, but nevertheless it is true, that many dwelling on the homes of poets have been public houses at one time or other. Burns's native cottage was of this description; the house in which Moore was born was a whiskey shop; and Shelley's house at Great Marlow was a beer shop. Even Coleridge's residence at Nether Stowey became an ordinary beer house. A house in which James Montgomery lived for forty years at Sheffield was a beer shop; and the birthplace of Kirke White is now used as a house for retailing intoxicating beverages.

German newspapers correct the assertion published last year, both in Europe and the United States, that the last of the descendants of Martin Luther had just died in one of the smaller towns of Germany. The last male descendant of the reformer departed this life at Dresden in 1879, but on the female side Luther's posterity is more flourishing than ever. Its oldest and most prominent representative was Prof. Robbe of the University of Leipzig, a distinguished scholar who died a few weeks ago at the age 88, and his place is now taken by Prof. Mobius of the University of Kiel.

There is a generally received but erroneous notion that the torpedo is a modern invention, and that during the recent hostilities in the East it was the first time employed in actual warfare. As long ago as the 14th of August, 1777, a boat was blown to pieces and nearly all its crew killed by the accidental explosion of a torpedo which had been used in an attempt made by the Americans against the English man-of-war Cerberus. In 1805 a brig, which had been anchored off Deal, England, for the purpose of experiments in submarine explosion, was destroyed in the presence of Mr. Pitt and a large concourse of spectators by a torpedo containing 170 pounds of powder. Previously, in 1797, a machine had been designed by which, to use the inventor's own words, he proposed "to imitate the action of gunpowder a progressive motion under water to a given point and there explode them," and which, therefore, contained the germ of the present fish torpedo.

The Boston Post has been publishing the opinions of the leading business men of that city in regard to the Fall, which were of a very hopeful character. It appears that there are opinions shared in by the merchants of New York. The latter have their expectations upon the large crops increased foreign trade, the settlement of public lands, and a general opinion that the period of depression is nearly ended. A large trade in the old sense of the term is not expected, but an improvement over any former season since 1873 is looked forward to, and a healthy revival in all departments of the trade in the near future. We have been working toward improvement in various ways. Large crops are assured, and reliable estimates give a total yield of wheat 40,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's production, though that was one of the best years on record. Foreign trade, too, has been rapidly working in our favor. The Western trade is coming forward promptly and in a good volume. The Southern trade will be destroyed by the yellow fever, but later it may be even more brisk on account of it. The shaky houses have hurried up to get the benefit of the bankrupt act, and now business ought to be steadier and firmer than we have seen it before in months.

A special train to the Columbia O. Dispatch from Maryland, O. reports that J. T. Gravenbach, a prominent young physician of that place, committed suicide last night by taking prussic acid. He left a letter requesting burial by the side of his wife, who died six weeks ago, to whom he was engaged to be married.

Over 600 bodies have been recovered of the persons drowned by the disaster to the excursion steamer Princess Alice, in the English channel. A large majority of the bodies have been recognized. Eighty-three that could not be identified were buried at Woolwich.

A young man named Wheeler Costello, a student of the university of Georgetown, Va., went down into a well to examine it, and was drowned by the fall. A man named Weller attempting to rescue him, was also overcome and before assistance arrived both died.

Advices from a great number of points in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, all declare that the late storm was the most severe for years. The destruction to railroad property is especially heavy. Washouts of culverts and bridges caused railroad travel on many roads to cease entirely. The storm seems to have extended its greatest force to the interior and eastern parts of the State of Ohio, western Pennsylvania, and northern West Virginia.

STATE SENATOR

County Politics.

Up to this time very little has been said about County politics, owing probably, to the fact, that but comparatively few farmers have had time to visit the villages for the time.

For the position of County Auditor, Leonard Streukens is the only prominent candidate mentioned on the Democratic side. He has served the people 6 years very acceptably, and we predict his re-nomination by acclamation.

J. P. Aikens, Alf. Brown and John Sundine are named in connection with the republican nomination. They are all good men but hardly able to cope with Streukens.

For the Senate the names of Hon. C. H. Lienau, Hon. W. H. Mills and Hon. J. F. Dilley are mentioned by their respective friends. They are all possessed of the requisite experience and ability to fill the position with credit to themselves and honor to the county. Mr. Lienau has represented this County in the Senate 4 years and the Watertown district in the House 1 year. Capt. Mills has represented the Carver district 2 years in the House and has occupied a very prominent position in that body.

Mr. Dilley has also been a member of the "popular branch" for several terms and acquitted himself with credit.

Hon. H. R. Denny is strongly urged by his republican friends for the same position and would undoubtedly, make a strong run, should he consent to the use of his name for that position.

Up to this time, as we remarked at the outset of this article, very little has been said about politics and it is hard for us to judge of the relative strength of the three Democratic candidates. Should Mr. Lienau decline to run, as his friends claim, the contest will then lie between Capt. Mills and Mr. Dilley, and we leave our readers to form their own opinion as to the winning man.

DRIVE WELLS.

To those in this county and vicinity who have or own so-called drive wells, the following letter from ex-Gov. Davis to Messrs. Ripley & Parker, who are contesting the right of so-called patentees to collect or exact "royalty" or a patent tax from such as have or use these wells, and published in the Daily Globe of last Friday, may be of some interest. Gov. Davis writes:

St. Paul Sept. 11, 1878.—Messrs. Ripley & Parker: I have no hesitation in advising the opposition to take an appeal in the drive well case, for I think the supreme court will reverse the decision I believe to be erroneous. I do not think the invention (so-called) is patentable. I wish to say here that I took the testimony of every man as to every place which was furnished me, at Fairbury, Ill., Erie, Pa., Elmira N. Y., and those who use them in Chicago. The line upon which I will take the case to the supreme court has already been stated to you. C. K. Davis.

NORWOOD DEPARTMENT

County Fair this week.
Young America will send a good delegation.

Flour is being shipped direct to Germany from this place.

Putting up stores was the order of the day on Saturday.

Two excellent sermons on Sunday by Rev. Rockwood.

James Sloum received two car loads of dry goods from Chicago this week.

The stereotypes and views at the drug store are going off like hot cakes.

One more section hand, it arrived on Saturday, its name is Sullivan and Frank is a proud boy. "Cigars for us if you please."

Louis Banmetz returned from Iowa last week, where he has been prospecting for a home.

Henry Fabel & Co. are buying barley, they are paying 50 cts. for new.

Dr. Lewis passed through town this week and spent an hour interviewing Hoeffkens pigeons. Thanks for the "Pot Pie" Dr.

The lightning entered our telegraph office during the storm and set it on fire in several places. Close call, G.

The farmers cant understand why wheat that weighs only 51 pounds is called No. 4 and still be obliged to give 60 pounds of it for 35 cts. Pretty rough all around.

Heiselein & Co. have been taking stock this week and report everything in good shape. They are the largest "machine" firm in carver county, and are meeting with success, owing mainly to their untiring efforts to please their customers.

Col. Bob Ingersoll's Opinion.
Washington Special, 23d.

Col. Bob Ingersoll has returned to this city from his European trip. He spent some time at the birthplace of Burns and interviewed all of the surviving relatives of Burns for the purpose of gathering material for his coming lecture upon the poet. Col. Ingersoll expresses himself satisfied with his visit. In England he found an antipathy to America that cropped out everywhere. In France he was much better pleased with the sentiment toward this country. In looking at the political situation in this country, Col. Ingersoll expresses some very positive opinions. He believes that the fate of the Republican party depends entirely upon the failure or success of the resumption policy. If resumption is accomplished without any injurious or demoralizing results, Ingersoll thinks the republicans will undoubtedly succeed; but if resumption is a failure, that means Democratic success. He is of the opinion that the present flat-money craze is of great help to the Democrats.

Waconia Items.

H. Deissner is the best village farmer—he has threshed 130 bushels of wheat, followed by the J. Stenger with 83 bushels, Albert Kohler, 68, M. Zahler 63, John Schimm 43, A. Wortmann 41, H. Van Cleef 38, Aug. Silez 23, in all 456 of wheat raised in our village.

Last Wednesday was a busy day in our village, Broberg & Johnson were threshing with 22 men, Bertine Bros. were raising the mill frame with 25 men and the Lutheran church bell was also elevated by the labors of ten men—so that 57 men were busy in the above work, and everything went off smoothly—except a little too much of Mike's lager.

A sad accident occurred in this town last Friday. Andrew Johnson, son of J. Johnson, working for Broberg and Johnson, broke his arm while attempting to fit a bolt. Dr. Deissner dressed the wound and Andrew is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

We are happy to state that Tom F. O'Hair, lately of Nobles County, returned here last week and will teach our public school the coming winter. Tom says nobody can forget our beautiful ladies and village.

Business is picking up a little, but is still below zero.

NORWOOD CORRESPONDENCE.
EDITOR HERALD:

Please allow a subscriber space in your widely circulated journal to correct an item which appeared in your Norwood correspondence items the past week, which reads as follows.

"Rev. J. L. Farber preached his farewell sermon on Sunday, we are sorry for us that his stay among this people was not as profitable as it might have been, the verdict of impartial people is that it was his own fault—we wish him success in his new field and hope he may profit by his own experience here"—the italics are ours.

It may be well to state the condition Mr. Farber found the charge three years ago, and the condition he now leaves it, and let your readers judge of the value of his labors. The church at Glencoe was in a very dilapidated condition, its floors settled down, the plastering falling off and its foundation rotted out—the parsonage was in a similar or worse condition.

These buildings have been put into thorough repair, a new stable built, the parsonage lots graded and fenced, shade trees planted &c.; all this has been accomplished through the untiring energy of Mr. Farber, ably seconded by the members and friends there.

He has also helped to build a neat and commodious church at Norwood, giving liberally of his scanty means towards its construction. To be brief not only has the church property been doubled in value during three years, of grasshoppers ravages, but the membership of the entire charge has been doubled.

Truthfully may it be said of him, well done good and faithful servant.

Without further enlarging it is proper in this connection to add that the churches at Glencoe and Norwood do not feel honored by the unkind and unchristian fling at their pastor, knowing as they do the source from which it emanates.

COUNTY FAIR.

We copy the following letter of the Secretary of the society, as published in the last issue of the Carver Press.

"The eleventh annual fair of this county will be held on the 27th and 28th days of September. Only a few short days intervene between that event

It will become all citizens who have at heart the welfare of the county to liberally patronize the fair, and to make it in all respects a success. Your sons and daughters can embellish the fair with their presence and the products of their labor. Let them do it. Bring your quilts, carpets and such products of your own manufacture, as will please those present.

We are informed that the ladies in many places are at work in earnest; if all who have an hour to spare, will employ it in making something for the fair, none can say that they did not do your duty.

Every thing in the power of the society will be done to accommodate exhibitors.

Let us see which class of citizens can make the best exhibits and who will come off from the field with the most honor."

FRANK WALKER, Secretary.

NEW SAFE.

Geo. A. DuToit, of the "Carver County Bank," was engaged all day on Tuesday in removing his old safe from his Bank Vault, and replacing it with a splendid new "McNeale and Urban Bunker Proof Safe," weighing 4,700 pounds, and finished up in elegant style, with Crane Lever hinge, highly etched and polished—it certainly is a beauty and pronounced by Mr. C. W. Potter, the State agent, as one of the finest and best safes of its size ever turned out by the factory.

We understand the cost of this safe is about $800. This will add renewed confidence in public estimation, in the Carver County Bank and its gentlemanly and accommodating manager George DuToit.

The last number of the Carver Press, says that Enoch Holmes, an old and prominent citizen of Carver intends to remove to Minneapolis in a short time with his family, in order to afford them better educational advantages.

Our jolly friend Fred Salter, was rendered doubly happy this morning by the arrival of a bouncing baby boy in his family, weighing 12 pounds. The Herald office acknowledges a liberal supply of "fragrant Havanas" in honor of the event and extends Fritz its hearty congratulations.

REPORT OF INQUEST.

Report of an inquest held at the town of Dahlgre, County of Carver and State of Minnesota, on the body of Charles J. Steinberg on the 6th day of September 1878.

"The body having been viewed by me the Coroner of Carver County, and having collected all the evidence to be obtained concerning the circumstances connected with the death of Charles J. Steinberg, late of the town of Dahlgre, County of Carver and State of Minnesota. I find that deceased came to his death by cutting his throat with a razor, and that the act was one of premeditated suicide and the coroner is of the opinion that the expense of an inquest unnecessary therefore premeditated is hereby granted his relatives to bury the body.

Witness my hand this 6th day of September A. D. 1878.

ROBERT MILLER, Coroner.

The card of the new proprietor of the Union Brewery, Geo. Karcher, appears in this issue of the HERALD. George has thoroughly refitted the brewery and now manufactures a No. 1 article of beer. We are sure George will succeed if he continues making good beer.

LAW SUITS.

The Bleichner, Benton case, that have attracted so much attention have been disposed of. Some were settled and others litigated and appeals taken to the District Court. The old saying, from little "acorns tall trees grow," is very apt in these cases.

CHURCH COLLECTION.

A collection was taken up last Sunday in the Catholic Church in Chaska and Carver, for the Yellow Fever sufferers.

We are informed by Father Wendlin that the collection was very liberal and reflects much credit upon the members of that congregation.

BLACK SMITH SHOP.

The business card of Joseph Delsing appears in this issue of the HERALD. Joseph is one of our very best workmen and since he started into business on his own account has met with deserved success. All work entrusted to his care will meet with prompt attention and moderate charges. Remember he occupies the old Delsing shop near Hennings store.

We shall speak of the different candidates for the Legislature in our next issue.

JUST RETURNED.

Otto Streissguth, returned last Tuesday from Chicago, and an immense stock of goods will arrive this week. Call in and see.

Our old friend Theodore Rendlger has moved on his farm in Lakewood and will make it his future home. Theodore has been one of our oldest and best citizens and we wish him prosperity in his new home.

CARD OF THANKS.

Being compelled to leave Young America on account of health, I take this way of returning my heart felt thanks to the citizens of that town for the kindness extended me while a resident of that pleasant village.

Chaska, Sept. 23rd 1878.

F. F. RUPE.

GOOD BYE.

I take this method of bidding all my friends in Carver County, and especially to the Honorable-Macmurechor of Young America, good bye. I carry your good wishes with me to my new home in Otter Tail County, and shall always remember you kindly.

Benton, Sept. 23rd 1878.

John Kohler.

Save your Harness by oiling it with Uncle Sam's Harness Oil, which will keep it soft and pliable. This is the best Oil ever made for leather. Sold by all Harness Makers.

Our old friend John Kohler, of Benton, will start for his new home in Otter Tail County next week. Mr. Kohler is an old resident of this county and in his removal we lose one of our best citizens. Success, however, John.

Mr. Dols, father of John Dols, of this village, left for Holland on Wednesday, after a visit in this county of over a month. He enjoyed himself very much.

SPORTING CLUB.

The members of the Chaska sporting club are requested to meet at Fred Eder's office at 6 o'clock sharp. Business of importance will come up for consideration.

F. C. Riebe, Secy.

CHAS. HALGREN, P. M.

Chas. Halgren, has been appointed postmaster at Watertown in place of J. A. C. Flood resigned. Charley is a capable young man and will make a No. 1. postmaster.

A. C. Lassen and Dr. W. A. Griffin, have been drawn on the U. S. Jury. Two good men, by the way.

Watertown Items.

Barth and Dressler are improving the appearance of their store shelves, by a thorough painting.

The Firemen had a very pleasant time at the Lake last Sunday. Some of the ladies tried their hand at fishing with poor success, and that reminds us there was "free beer" where was the Free Press correspondent?

The Dahlgre correspondent to the Herald takes considerable liberty in stating that we have a Mo-nkey in town. I am authorized by the city council to say. The above monkey is the property of the Carver Free Press and we decline the honor. You will get a scrap from the "thing" this week, or we are no judge of animal nature.

Mr. W. C. Bredenhagen of the Free Press dropped his smiling countenance among us last Friday. Very good friend B—do it some more.

In passing through the country the other day, we struck a friendly Pat digging potatoes, and noticing that many of the potatoes were cut and spoiled the cause. Oh! he said, said Pat. Schure, Thirt not be the half enough thin.

There seems to be considerable competition among our butchers at present both declaring they will give their meats away rather than that the other should sell any. If they really do intend to give it away, we hereby order 3 head of young cattle to be nicely dressed and FAT. The widows and orphans (especially the former) please send their orders direct to us.

STRAYED OR STOLEN.

From Jake Yager's saloon, a bob tailed banty legged mu-nkey, of the feminine male persuasion. Very quarrelsome in his disposition and when he has his plug hat on looks as though he expected to beat Adam Hill in getting the nomination for legislature this fall. It is the property of the Carver Free Press, and is teething. It is possible some "old Betty" has smuggled him off so "Geo. can make room for his uncle." It is the same one that has peeped through that pane of glass all summer and sat on the mill dam while we floated down the raging crow river. Persons knowing of his whereabouts, will please advise the proprietor of the "hole in the wall."

O. Schoenemann and Stanley Moore, two very interesting and lively young gents of Chaska came over to Watertown Friday and participated in healthful exercises such as hunting, billiards and a few UNEXCITABLES. Their lively forms were seen (by early risers) on the Noonan road considerably before day light and we take the boys word when they say, it was immense. Blackberry brandy and that PECULIAR adjective of Schoenemann helped enliven the occasion.

PERSONAL.—Hox. H. B. Strait, was in town on Saturday and was in good spirits.

Col. T. B. Hunt, of Washington, an old time resident of Chaska, was in town Saturday, shaking hands with his many old friends.

Jos. Weimann Esq., of Faribault, was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Webster, Genl. Agent of the Actna Life Ins. Company, was in town Saturday taking evening of the Week-erle case.

A. C. Carlisle, Esq., of Mound City, Minn. was in town with his family was in town on Sunday, guests of J. W. Gregg, Esq. Mr. C. was formerly a resident of Chaska and principal of our public school. He is now a merchant of Mound City.

F. Linenfelser, Esq., returned from Chicago last Saturday in good health and spirits.

Jos. Schepers, Lucus Dols and George Bleichner, of Benton were in town during the week and called in our office.

Republican Convention.

A Republican convention will be held at Waconia Carver County on Wednesday the 12th of October 1878 at 11 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of electing in nomination candidates for the following offices to-wit:
